

Please do not make it easier for fewer companies to own more media sources. Already it is so hard for the general public to get news and information without paying a premium. In addition, often the news we buy is delivered only after being run through a corporate filter. I thought the American people owned the airwaves, not corporate interests.